Len, I have created the TEDD contact for that site, and added him to a new "Data Feed" site role...here is a screenshot of the contact information I put in (<http://cl.ly/image/1J0v1E262p44>).

We are in the beta phase of TEDD and are going to use this event as a prototype. We are locking down access in a couple ways right now. #1 – the iPad where TEDD is living has to be registered with us. #2 – login screen on the TEDD app itself, so even if it does get into the wrong hands, they have to have credentials to enter the app.

Eric, feel free to forward this on to any OSC on site there if needed.

Thanks Len, I look forward to your response.

Kris,

Sorry I didn't respond earlier. The agency's email system is so slow and goes down all the time that I can't check it as often as I would like.

So, you can see the site - you can see every site with the TEDD account. The issue is that all the documents are marked as exclusive and you cannot see "Exclusive" content in any site. The idea being that the content is marked as Exclusive because the OSC only wants it viewed by someone he's granted access. He can grant your TEDD account access by putting them in the contacts list and giving you "View Exclusive" rights. It would be good if he made another category of user called "Data Feed" to keep you separated since this is a different kind of thing. Actually, make sure the OSC is OK with whatever you are doing with the document since he/she initially wanted to hide the documents from general view.

The only issue is that it is expecting the contact to be a valid email address. I'm not sure if we check for that on input. If we do check and you cannot get past this, use the email TEDD@epa.gov and I'll get in and adjust it for you.

This is the first time that this has come up so we are not entirely sure how this will all work. We knew it would but were waiting for you guys to hit that wall before we tried to breach it,

If you could reply and put Eric's email and whoever else needs to be on board, it would be good since the agency email is not as reliable as we might need right now.

Len
